

2007 College-Bound Oakland Graduates

In Oakland, education doesn't stop with high school graduation. This year, more than 1,000 graduating seniors plan to continue their education at universities, community colleges and other schools. This list includes college-bound graduates from diverse backgrounds and every neighborhood of the city. Their achievement shows that all Oakland students can thrive in school and beyond with hard work and help from the dedicated adults around them.

Oakland public schools will continue to raise standards to ensure that college is the rule, not the exception. The Oakland Unified School District congratulates all Class of 2007 graduates and their families, and wishes all graduates greater success in the life-long pursuit of education.
